“ Grandma, today is the day we say goodbye to you. It's a very hard thing to even consider or wrap my head around. You've been there in some capacity my whole life, whether it was making Landon and I hotdog sandwiches or waffles when we were younger or offering a helping hand without any hesitation when a unforeseen circumstance would arise when I was older. You were so strong and so brave in the face of so many obstacles and you never lost your laugh, smile or willingness to help. I will miss so much about you but most of all I will just miss you being around. I'm so happy you're free of your pain and resting now, I love you, and I will think of you everyday. A little side note I'm pretty sure I got my love of horror movies and sci-fi from you, and every time I watch anything like that it will remind me of you and I will smile. Grandma You don't have to fight any more just rest you've earned it. I will always love you.
