My 1st handsome baby boy, although it's only 4 yrs since you left me, I still talk to you n always see you in my dreams. The pain hasn't been lessened so I hope one day when God calls me home, you'll be the one to help me join you. Then we can know the real truth of your passing. Wait for me at the gates of Heaven n you'll see me soon. I love n miss you so very much. Day hi to your dad bc I miss him too. 😞

“ Andrew my love thank you for giving me 6 wonderful years as we were complete and found our forever when we married on December 8, 2014.

You were an awesome dad to our girls Suneisha and Destiny. You came into my life when all I seen was darkness and you were my light to my many dark nights. Because of you I had my life back and I will never forget that. You never gave up on me.

You showed me what it was like to feel loved all over again and what the meaning of love was all about.

I will treasure all the moments we shared together and keep them close in my heart.

It was really hard for me to accept the fact that you are gone because I kept thinking you were going to come through the door telling me you beat Covid, however, I came to terms that you are gone.

Andrew my love I hold your pillows tight just to still feel you to help me get through the night or nights of crying.

I will hold onto you and never stop loving you.

Love you always and see you again.

“ Andrew was due August 11th but I guess he was in a hurry and he joined the world a week earlier. He is my son that has a special place in my heart. He was always so shy but little did I know he started talking to girls in Jr high. He is one who will help you, protect you when you're in danger or with anything you need. He has always been a good friend to many and a great son to me. He didn't care to learn much from me but his dad introduced him to wrestling and other sports. He became a sports fan and player. Watching him play was always a great joy for me, it made me so proud of him. Everyday I wake up and realize I'm not dreaming that horrible dream of him being in heaven. This is so very hard for me to write this but I'll try and get through it. Drew I love you so much and I know you are in a better peaceful place with all the angels. Please don't forget to come see me. I'm missing you so very much. I love you, my first child who had me in pain for almost 10 hours. I would rather have that pain than the pain I have and will always have each second that goes by. I love that I can't express how. Say hello to my dad and all of my family members there with you. I'll never say goodbye but until I see again.
