“ Chris was my next door neighbor for over 25 years. We both lived in our family homes. Chris LOVED animals; especially dogs. Whenever a stray dog was running on our street, she would immediately come over to my house and say, "There's a dog running down the street. Help me!!!" So, we would either catch and secure the dog, give it water and food, try to find it's owner or call Animal Control if we couldn't catch it. Sometimes, when her pups were hungry, we would drive to McDonald's and order "just the meat" for her dogs. Chris and Michael were always on the go: trips to Costco, the Mall, the coast, restaurants (Alejandra's was one of their favorites). Chris and her mom would walk their dogs together every morning at 5:15a.m. I would see them as I was leaving for work. They also had a standing appointment to get their hair done every 2 weeks. There was a time when Chris, her mother, Joy, and her sister-in-law, Beth, went to the movies every Friday night. Chris had a wonderful life and was a happy person! Chris was a loving dog mother, wife and mother to her son, Brian. I will miss Chris and will carry many memories of her in my heart. Rest in Peace, Chris.
