

Colleen Joyce Thews

March 22, 1958 - February 1, 2017

Colleen Joyce Thews, age 58, passed away February 1, 2017 at Kaweah Delta Medical Center in Visalia, California, after succumbing to complications relating to an 11-year battle with Lupus. Colleen was born March 22, 1958 to Wallace and Janice Thews in Inglewood, California and grew up in Watsonville, California. She graduated from San Jose State University in 1985 and enjoyed a career in sales and marketing in the Bay Area where she became a proud Sustaining Member of the Junior League of San Jose. In 2002, she moved to Visalia to be closer to family and medically retired in 2008. Throughout a life spent traveling the world (she especially enjoyed Italy and Hawaii), listening to the world's music, planning family gatherings, and being a supportive part of her niece's and nephew's lives, she always focused on "making the memories". This infectious spirit was felt by everyone from her closest family to those who only briefly passed through her life. Although we are sad to no longer have her here with us, we know she would prefer to see us continue to live life with a smile and we take comfort in knowing her suffering has ended. Colleen is survived by her sisters Cindy (Dan) Adams, Susan (Michael) Velasco, and Kathy Thews, nephews Jeff (Lori) Adams, Brian (Catrina) Adams, and Ben Adams, niece Victoria Velasco, great-nieces Alyssa and Danielle Adams, great-nephew Kyle Adams, numerous extended family, and her adoring four-legged companions Duncan, JJ, and Pebbles. Services will be held at 1:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 9th at Salser & Dillard Funeral Chapel in Visalia.
