“ I remember how kind Connie was. who when she waved and smiled at mom how she smiled and waved back. Connie knew she could not speak and I am sure her greetings to her, made her feel important. Thanks for the times you listened to me in my grief after mom passed. and I remember fondly how when I expressed my sorrow at your illness, you said don't feel bad for me. just sit and talk to me like you are doing now. that showed bravery and made me feel like a friend. I Miss Connie. but am glad I knew her. blessings Connie on your great adventure. I loved how realistic you were. I only say Good-Night. not good-bye.
