“ Correction. One of my fondest memories of my grandma is growing up sitting in hers and Bob's living room at Christmas time. They would have the fireplace going and we'd all song Christmas songs while Grandpa played his guitar. There's so so many more like sitting in her backyard while she cooed at her doves that would visit her, sharing some of her favorite recipes which I still can't perfect like she did, and reminiscing about her parents my great grandparents. I'll miss her sweet and loving touch her kisses and hugs. We weren't as close as we should've been but I sure do miss her more than she'd ever know.
