“ To Terry and Christina, Eddie and Lolie called to tell about your Mom's passing. Memories of her began flooding mind. I know that she and her siblings cared for each other deeply and made it a point to keep in contact with one another. I remember all the get togethers she hosted at her house and continued to host when she built her new home. Remember the sign "el jacalito" she had on her patio?
Our tios and Tias would dance out on the patio with their spouses and each other! At Christmas she would put a basket out with ornaments which I do today to remember the past. I know my dad adored his baby sister and would do anything for her. I'm sure she was greeted by Larry, Grandma Chiquita, Pete, and everyone of her brothers and sisters. One day you will see your precious mom again. It is a promise you can count on. God bless you girls and your families. Norma Molina Garcia
