“ Very sad to learn the news of Jason's passing. He was only 55 years old but lived the life many only dream of. He made my job come together with flying colors when we were able to work together over the years. He will be greatly missed. Here is a snapshot of him in one of his public "offices" at USC in 2010 when working for the Women of Troy at the Galen Center in Los Angeles, CA. © SCPIX Rest in Peace my friend and enjoy the many other great ones up there with you. xoxo

“ Jason and I shared many laughs over the years as former SIDs, a profession we both loved, working for and with people we respected. We reconnected when we both ended up working in education, sharing more laughs... he always supported me and was a good friend.

“ I'm very saddened to learn of Jason's passing. He left us way too young. Sending prayers and condolences to his family and friends.

Jason gave his all for a dozen years in the USC Sports Information Office. He skillfully publicized championship teams, coaches and athletes, and worked with many of the nation's elite media members.

His colleagues and I were privileged to work with him, and are heartbroken that he has passed. Fight On, Jason!

I was fortunate to know Jason when he was with the USC Sports Information office. He was a "bright light" with a GET IT DONE attitude. After he moved to Texas and beyond, he always made a point to "say hello" at various sporting events around the southland. I extend my sincere condolences to his family and friends. I truly, truly say he was a blessing in my life, and he will be missed! Curt Sandoval, ABC 7 Sports

*I knew Jason since our days at Cal State Fullerton. I will always remember his smile and friendly attitude. He was a true pleasure to be around.
In 1990 we did a CSUF Men's Basketball game. I was added to the broadcast crew at literally the last second. I remember how easy it was to work with him and how much homework he did.
When he left CSUF to go to USC I would jokingly call him "Benedict Pommier" for leaving Fullerton to go to another school.
RIP Jason.
Gone waaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaay too soon!*
