“ I have a million memories I treasure. Plenty that are inappropriate, most are hysterically funny and some so sad that the words are impossible to write. Jeanne and I shared a lifetime of friendship in only 40 years. We shared the successes of our children, the births of our grandchildren, the deaths of our husbands and terrifying ordeal of her cancer diagnosis. We shared more laughs than anyone I know. Who else could text me at 4:30 in the morning asking for a grilled cheese, a latte, a kids cheeseburger from McDonald's or a salt shaker and get what she wanted but our Jeanne? I'll miss you until I meet you in heaven! I love you always,
Jeanne Sue
