“ Mom and Dad took us to visit Grandma and Grandpa about once a year when I was young. Those trips were special to me. I especially loved spending time with my uncle Waynie. I remember a visit when Waynie and Grandpa had taken two bicycles and transformed them into a "bicycle built for two." It was a genuine thrill for me to ride on the back with Waynie riding up front. I don't know when everyone started calling him Kenneth Wayne but to me he was always Waynie. The uncle who was only two years older than me.
