“ My husband, Jack, and I shared many memorable square dances and holidays with Sara and Kinsey. We really enjoyed their company and are saddened to learn of their passings. I know that they are once again "swinging their partner" at the big hoe down in the sky. While it is sad to know that they have both passed, we find it consoling to know that they are together again after such a brief separation in time. Sara and Kinsey were both really fun people to spend time with. We treasure our memories of the times we spent with them. We loved them a lot. We send our love to all of the family.
