“ First of all my condolences to the family of Larry Branco. I recognized the name and the face looked familiar but where did I know Larry from. For several years we would cross paths at the farm show in Tulare. Larry worked with Yellow Freight filling out paper work for exhibitors out going freight on Thursday the last day of the show and the following Friday. He worked the area that I was in charge of at the farm show and it was always a pleasure to talk with him on those two days of the year.
