

Parth Patel

June 25, 1977 - October 22, 2024

Parth, lovingly known as Pinku, was a warm-hearted and compassionate soul who left an unforgettable mark on everyone he met. As a husband, father, son, nephew, and brother, he embraced each role with unwavering commitment and love, making everyone feel like they belonged from the very first moment. Parth's open arms and generous heart meant family and friends were always his first priority, and he went to great lengths to ensure his loved ones were safe and cared for.

Born on June 25th, 1977, in India, he moved to the United States at 18, and it was in his early twenties that he met the love of his life, Yatee. Together, they settled in Hanford, California, where Parth built a close-knit community over two decades, extending his family in countless ways and earning the love of many.

He is survived by his beloved wife, Yatee, their two daughters, Navya and Viya, his sister-in-law Komal, his niece Shreya, and his parents, Surendra and Bharti Patel. His legacy of kindness, strength, and boundless love will live on through them and the countless lives he touched.
