

Vilma Esperanza Galdamez

March 10, 1971 - December 15, 2024

Vilma Esperanza Galdamez, a beloved mother, grandmother, sister, and friend, passed away on December 15, 2024, in Visalia, California. Born on March 10, 1971, in El Salvador, Vilma's journey through life was marked by her unwavering love for her family and her passion for her work.

Family was at the heart of everything Vilma did. She cherished every moment spent with her daughter Wendy and son Kevin; they were truly the lights of her life. As a devoted mother, she instilled values of kindness and resilience in them while showering them with unconditional love that knew no bounds. In the past year, Vilma found immense joy in being a grandmother to Mateo, her pride and joy who brought out a sparkle in her eyes that could light up any room.

Vilma held deep ties to El Salvador throughout her life; it was more than just where she came from, it was home. Traveling back there filled her soul with happiness as she reconnected with roots that shaped who she was: vibrant culture infused with rich traditions surrounded by loving sisters along with nieces and nephews who adored their Tia Vilma.

Her spirit will forever be remembered by all whose lives she touched, the friends made along life's path, and especially by those closest to her heart.

In honoring Vilma's legacy let us carry forward lessons learned about compassion towards others while embracing every precious moment gifted within our own families, just as she would have wanted us all to do so!
